Big questions, through the eyes of a computer scientist....

developmental biology:
How does a baby know when to stop growing?

molecular programming:
How does a cell phone know when to stop growing?

computer programs:
How does a computer program know when to stop running? How does one know if a program will ever stop running?

the Halting Problem.