Big questions, through the eyes of a computer scientist....

computer programs:
How does a computer program know when to stop running?
How does one know if a program will ever stop running?

the Halting Problem.